

Weekly News from the Head

Dear Parents/carers,

I was really proud to see so many of you at the Remembrance service yesterday. A great show of support in the community, with so many of our pupils representing the school, Cubs, Brownies and BYS. Well done to all of you who joined us to mark this very special 100 year anniversary of the end of WW1. All the children behaved brilliantly and I must give a special mention to thank Elizabeth and Sophie for writing and performing such moving poems.

We have parent consultations this Thursday. You should receive your parent slips with your times back today. If you have not already completed the slip, we do still have a few time slots left. Please call in at the school office to see what is available.

Odd Socks Day this Friday 16th November in aid of Anti Bullying Week. Wear normal school uniform except for the most outrageous odd socks you can find. Wear them outside your trousers or with a skirt and be proud to be unique. We are not asking for any donations, we just want to share the message of acceptance and respect for one another. Having fun and accepting each others differences.

As you may have seen on TV, The One Show's Rickshaw Challenge is back again this year. They are taking on the amazing 423 mile cycle for Children In Need from 9th -16th November. Last week our Reception class learnt about Diwali, the festival of light. They learnt all about the story of Diwali and celebrated by making cards, crowns and Diva Lamps made out of clay. The children produced some fantastic artwork and listened and danced to music.
